

NICHOLAS HOOPER

COMPOSER

Nicholas Hooper is one of Europe's leading composers, having written and produced music for over 250 films, dramas and documentaries since 1990; he has developed a reputation for producing music that is original, inspiring and always colourful.

His scores have received several major accolades. In 2004 he won the BAFTA for Best Original Score for The Young Visitors, being also nominated for State of Play. Nick was recently nominated for a 2006 Bafta for his score to The Girl In The Cafe. Prior to this he was also BAFTA nominated for The Way We Live Now. In 1998 he won the coveted Golden Panda Award for Land of the Tiger, a major BBC documentary series on India. The following year he won again (having been nominated for three separate scores), making him the first composer to win the award consecutively. He scored Philip Martin's feature, Einstein and Eddington, starring David Tennant as Sir Arthur Eddington and Andy Serkis as Albert Einstein for Company Pictures/HBO, and Belonging for BBC Wales Drama. He has most recently completed scoring Enid Blyton for Carnival/BBC, Mo Mowlam for C4, and Yes Virginia, a CBS animated film for Christmas 2009.

He has received many accolades for his feature films including the period feature The Heart Of Me, starring Helena Bonham Carter and Olivia Williams, and The Tichbourne Claimant (a quote from Variety: "Nicholas Hooper's alert symphonic score rates a major bow, adding shape and atmosphere to the labyrinthine tale").

Most recently Nicholas has received great critical acclaim for his stunning score to Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix for Warner Bros: "Let there be no doubt: Hooper's reputation is cemented with this work, and his career just shifted gears." Daniel Champion, Music from the Movies, July 2007. Nicholas has most recently completed scoring Harry Potter and the Half Blood Prince, nominated for a 2010 Grammy for Best Film Score, the follow up to his hugely successful "Harry Potter and the Order of the Phoenix".
