

NINA HUMPHREYS

COMPOSER

An RTS Award winning composer for her beautiful score to Talkback/Channel 4's acclaimed period drama, Sword of Honour, adapted from the Evelyn Waugh novel by William Boyd, and starring Daniel Craig. Nina is now one of the UK's most successful composers with credits ranging from psychological thrillers, to comedies, and period dramas. Combining a hugely sensitive and collaborative approach with a highly tuned musical intuition for what is required for each individual project, Nina has become one of the most in demand, and successful score composers currently working in UK television.

Having caught the attention of UK directors & producers with her score to The Lakes II, Nina followed this up with incredible scores for the Tiger Aspect Production Murder, directed by Beeban Kidran (nominated for an RTS Award), Rose & Maloney, and a wonderfully ethnic score to Boudica, as well as a brilliantly quirky score for The Worst Week Of My Life.

Nina scored the psychological thriller Lie With Me for Granada, the six part contemporary drama A Thing Called Love for the BBC, and the third series of Granada's Blue Murder. She also scored the intriguing science fiction thriller A For Andromeda for the BBC, and the BBC4 adaptation of the Jean Rhys novel, Wide Sargasso Sea, for Kudos.

Her most recent works have included a haunting and evocative choral score for the BBC's hugely popular Dalziel & Pascoe, and the hotel based comedy, Christmas At The Riviera for Carnival. Nina scored The Murder Of Princess Diana, for Universal/Lifetime, and the gripping one off drama White Girl for Tiger Aspect Productions. Nina most recently completed scoring the Debbie Horsfield written 6 part drama, All The Small Things for the BBC, and Sunshine, a three-part drama for Craig Cash and Jellylegs Productions starring Steve Coogan. She has also just completed the drama series Personal Affairs for 2am TV/BBC3.
